

One way of looking at measuring inequality is to look at the earnings of people at the top vs. the typical worker in the middle.

1

Compare 1978 to 2010. This was the top 1% vs. the typical worker in 1978.